Dear Rudy!

Are you OK? How is your mom? I hope Auntie Anna is OK too.

I had an interview in London yesterday. I flew to Heathrow, one of four airports near London. I decided to take the train, the Heathrow Express, into London, not to save money but because it's faster than a taxi or a bus. I arrived at 10am, waited ten minutes for the train and after a fifteen-minute journey was in London. The company's office is five minutes from Paddington station, so I was soon at AGC Computers!

My interview was with Nick Kane, the Director, but as I walked through the door, guess who I saw? Tim Buckle, an old friend. His wife, Gina Firth, knows my sister. We had a chat and then I went to Mr Kane's office.

I felt nervous before I walked into the room. I only had three hours sleep on Monday night but he was so pleasant my worries disappeared immediately and I felt comfortable.

And... I got the job! The money is the same as I earn now but I get the chance to see the world. I'm going to Tim's house for dinner tonight. He's still the same... tall and thin but now his hair is very short. We have lots to talk about. He and Gina have got three boys and a girl, four kids, and we've got our new baby!

See you.
